MAKING MEMORIES  SINCE 1963

Farrell's and the Profit Update

There are a lot of great things happening at Farrell's. From a new menu to a new look to new growth opportunities, we are going through a lot of amazing changes! We are proud to be working with our new partner, Marcus Lemonis, to set the course for the future of Farrell's. Marcus is an investor, entrepreneur, and host of the CNBC show "The Profit", where he invests his own money into businesses that are struggling or in need of resources to grow. Farrell's was chosen as the premiere episode for season four on August 23, and we have already begun the journey with Marcus and his team to improve our people, process, and product. Here's a little taste of what's to come! We thank you for being loyal guests as we continue our legacy of making memories since 1963.
